TOWARD AN EQUITABLE FUTURE

For nearly 150 years, YWCA Metropolitan Chicago has been here to support, uplift and unleash the full potential of every woman, child and family across the region. With its long-held mission to eliminate racism and empower women, the YWCA is building a more Equitable Future – one where quality education is available to all, where women and girls feel safe walking down their city streets at night, where affordable childcare is accessible and working women do not have to choose between their careers and their families to make ends meet.

This year, our Leader Luncheon honorees are changing policies, breaking the rules and speaking truth to power in the spirit of creating more Equitable Futures for us all.
